To-day's weather forecast: Northfield fairish.

When the allies move on Montpelier to-morrow, the capital will not be moved to Burlington.

In spite of the vagaries of the weather, Barre's celebration of Labor day yesterday may be considered a marked success. The people of the community were especially fortunate in having as their guest a man who stands in such a prominent position in the labor world, none other than James Duncan, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and president of the Granite Cutters' International association. And, at the same time, it was most fitting that Mr. Duncan should lend his presence to the celebration of labor's holiday in the greatest granite center of the country and of the world as well.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY'S CHANCE

If the results of the recent Republican caucuses were correctly reported, as it is reasonable to assume they were, and if all the report after the caucuses is well based, the Republican state convention at Montpelier to-morrow will be in the hands of the uninstructed delegates, men who were elected presumably for their standing in the party and who are keen and alert to the possibilities of the party for the forthcoming election.

All of the avowed candidates, excepting the eleventh-hour candidate, M. J. Hapgood, will go into the convention with a smattering of support drawn chiefly from their immediate community and surrounding towns; but no one of the quartet will have anything like a commanding position in that which promises to be one of the most interesting contests ever held by the party in this state.

Fleetwood, Howe, Clement and Powell will have a little support, some of it perfunctory and ready to branch off at the first indication of the inability of their candidate to secure the nomination for governor and another part of which is no doubt sincere in the belief that its man is the most feasible candidate for the next biennial election and will stick to him through thick and thin.

The uninstructed and unpledged section of the convention will at the outset be far in the majority of the whole, and supplemented by the defections from the four candidates already mentioned will be in a position to sweep the convention for the man upon whom all the party can unite with sincere enthusiasm, confident in the belief that he can lead the party to well-pronounced victory at the polls. It will be, therefore, the convention of the "dark horse" with everything in his favor—if the expression "dark horse" can be used in conjunction with a man for whom there is a tremendous sentiment throughout all the borders of the state and for whom many delegations were pledged even though that person had stated he was not a candidate for the nomination. It is the chance for the free and untrammelled Republicans of Vermont to select their man—Charles W. Gates.

THE NERVES AND THEIR NEEDS

We do not give much thought to our nervous system when it is working all right but when it goes wrong nature has a way of calling it forcibly to our attention by something that we cannot overlook—pain.

Try to reach a painful nerve with medicine of any sort and you are confronted with a fact that every doctor knows, that the only way to reach the nerves is through the blood.

You see now why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the great tonic for the blood, are also a great nerve builder. When a nerve becomes inflamed and painful it is unless caused by an accident—because the blood was not giving it the elements of nourishment it needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, the nerves are strengthened, the inflammation subsides and the pain vanishes. By keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the danger of nervous breakdown, insomnia, nervous indigestion and other disorders caused by ill-nourished nerves is greatly lessened.

In children the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills banishes the fear of St. Vitus' dance. The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send free on request a good little book on Nervous Disorders. Write for it today. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
